Note 1: Mail Processing and Delivery

The statistics for mail processing and delivery indicate the average time required to process mail from the time it is received in the Mail Room of the Patent and Trademark Office until it is delivered to the organization. For example, it reflects the time it takes for a paper to be delivered to an Examining Group, not the Examiner. Mail often receives additional clerical processing in the Group, depending on the type of document. It is not unusual for mail to take a few weeks to actually reach the Examiner. However, the official receipt date is that which is stamped in the Mail Room, reflecting the date the mail was received in the Office.

Note 2: Certified Copies

New reporting categories are instituted for certified copies this month. No goal is indicated for the service time for providing certified copies of the file-wrapper-and-contents. The time required to provide a certified copy is largely determined by the accessibility of the file. In the event that the file is lost, or in remote storage, considerable delay may be experienced before the copy can be provided. If the file is lost, the Office will initiate file reconstruction which may require months to complete.

The Walk-Up Certification service is offered only in the PTO's Public Serarch Room on an experimental basis. To use the service, requestors are responsible for reproducing the document to be certified, placing it in correct order, and providing the reproduced copy and the original to the certification assistant in the Public Search Room.

May 3, 1982.

THERESA A. BRELSFORD,
Acting Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

Examiner Education Program

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and Intellectual Property Owners, Inc. are jointly instituting an education program for patent examiners to increase their awareness of industrial technology, particularly in rapidly advancing industrial fields. The program is expected to benefit the patent system and its users by improving the quality of patent examining, resulting, in turn, in the issuance of higher quality patents.

Under the joint program, costing about $350,000 annually, each patent examiner will be given an opportunity to spend up to a week once every three years in visiting commercial and industrial installations which industry makes available for this purpose. The cost of the program will be defrayed by contributions from industry. However, to avoid even the slightest possibility that contributors might influence Patent and Trademark Office decisions in specific applications, the contributors' identities will be kept from patent examiners who visit commercial or industrial facilities, and those who designate examiners for specific trips.

Business concerns interested in making a financial contribution in support of this program should mail contributions to the address below:

	Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks Box 12
Education Fund	Washington, D.C. 20231

Companies interested in making their commercial industrial facilities available for visits by patent examiners under this program are urged to advise the Office by letter, describing briefly the nature of the facilities. The letter should be addressed to:

	Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Plant Visits	Washington, D.C. 20231

Intellectual Property Owners, Inc. is a non-profit organization dedicated to improving the public awareness of the basic social and economic values of a strong system of patents, trademarks, copyrights and trade secrets.
